Sustainable development near Paris

Where: Créteil, 13 kms far from Paris
When: from October 1st 2019 to 31th August 2020
Host organisation: Association MJC Mont-Mesly / Madeleine Rebérioux, www.mjccreteil.com
Deadline: September 1st 2019

The opportunity

The MJC/CSC Mont-Mesly/ Madeleine Rebérioux is a cultural and social centre looking for increase citizen participation of local population in Creteil. You'll be working whit a team of animators and two French volunteers.

The current situation linked to global warming and increasing pollution is leading us more and more to promote sustainable development initiatives and to raise the awareness of professionals, volunteers and population about respect for the environment.

Ecology is universal but applied differently according to the countries and the cultures, and this leads us to propose a mission to create a circuit of sustainable development within the association, in connection with our network of partners.

The volunteer will:
• Support the coordination of our shared garden and help the volunteer team who manages this space
• Develop network of partners supporting sustainable development
• Raise awareness among the population to an eco-responsible approach

Accommodation, food and transport arrangements
In Creteil, 20 minutes away from Paris, you'll be sharing an apartment (private room) with a local family, near by the metro station. You could buy and cook your own food.

Training during the opportunity
The volunteer could participate to free French lessons all over his/her mission. He/she could also practice one activity of his/her choice within our association (music, sport, dance...).

We will organize training on environmental issues with other MJCs and local associations.

Moreover, the volunteers will regularly meet other volunteers hosted by MJCs located in Ile-de-France region. These meetings will be organised by Fédération des MJC in Ile-de-France. Their aim will be sharing experiences, reinforce linguistic and social skills and develop a common project in a group dynamics.

Volunteer profile
We look for a volunteer interested in sustainable development and protection of the environment, who likes to work in team and has some notions of French (A2).
