Contact Making Seminar YOUTH DEMOCRACY

7th to 10th of November 2019.

Granada, Spain

Dear Partners, dear Friends!

Every day there are more experiences and tools for smart cities, major investments are being made in the subject with promising results. And we believe that this development can be used more extensively to foster youth participation in public policies through democratic processes, while such participation can be a great boost for smart cities and their real validation.

That is why we propose a Contact Making Seminar for agents from different European countries and different contexts to debate about the topic, share and discover experiences, analyze possible uses and create networks for future action projects in this line.

Objectives:

- To provide a meeting point for organizations to exchange information about smart cities and youth participation in decision making and foster a solid network of good and reliable partners to make future projects with;
- To discover real experiences about smart cities and youth participation and analyze them to be able to transfer to other contexts;
- To discover the possibilities of using tools of smart cities to improve youth participation and vice versa.

Who we are

Asociación Las Niñas del Tul ("Girls of the Tulle") is a cultural association from the city of Granada, which aims at developing, promoting and carrying out cultural activities, promoting values of tolerance and equality, respecting the environment and protecting the historical-artistic heritage, as well as supporting and helping young people and groups to start projects and activities, providing for them training and information and facilitating contact between them.

We are an organization with extensive experience in international and youth work. We use the methodology of non-formal education in our work, encouraging the active and effective participation of young people, especially those with fewer opportunities.

We have a space en the Granada Council for to inform about European programs to all young people. We also organize seminars and training about teamwork, inclusion of young people with fewer opportunities, guides and resources to improve the work of the associations within the European youth programs, etc.

We work with different administrations, schools, NGOs and informal groups of young people promoting dialogue and cooperative work.

Las Niñas del tul have different profile in our workers and volunteers. They are specialized in different areas: theater, training, volunteering, information distribution, youth work, preparing and coordination the projects for other organizations, etc.
