Project description

The project

he project responds to the real needs related to the need to support young people on the threshold of adulthood entering the labor market and is consistent with the objectives of KA1 and the priorities of the Youth sector. Its implementation will allow for the acquisition of knowledge, gaining specific skills and will develop interpersonal competences of the participants (group work, creativity, independence, etc.). Various forms of work and cooperation in ethnically mixed groups will be used to overcome stereotypical thinking, learn tolerance, and fight prejudices. The project fully complies with the assumptions of the Erasmus + program, in particular youth mobility projects - incl. by supporting young people in achieving learning outcomes (knowledge, skills and competences) in order to expand their personal development opportunities, engage them in the role of conscious and active members of society and increase their employability in the labor market, increase the knowledge of the English language among participants, raise the level of knowledge of other cultures.

Even though young people nowadays have access to the Internet, many opportunities do not help them find a job. Young people often do not know how to manage their lives, How to plan the path of their development, what skills they need and how to acquire them. The project is supposed to strengthen them, reveal their hidden potential and complete those areas that are omitted by formal education and which are related. We want to stimulate the sense of entrepreneurship and self-confidence among young people. Many people have a lot of ideas, but the courage is just lacking to take this last step, which is its implementation.

The goals of the project are:

1. Acquisition of professional skills - work in a team or individual work
2. Acquiring the ability to use information technologies
3. Acquisition / improvement of professional qualifications, enabling further education or increasing the chance of finding a job that meets the expectations of participants
4. Raising the level of knowledge and competences during the exchange of experiences
5. Development of knowledge about the labor market and its basic elements, i.e. CV, cover letter, self-presentation, building your own brand, job interview or job search tools
6. Development of soft skills among participants, which are highly valued on the labor market, and language skills, which are among the basic requirements of employers.
7. Spreading knowledge about the member states of the European Union, stimulating the curiosity of the world and shaping cultural awareness.

8. Creating positive attitudes among young people, such as: tolerance, respect for cultural diversity, entrepreneurship, activity, resistance to stress, creative problem solving, willingness to help other people.

9. Creating a platform for the exchange of ideas, experiences or good practices between different countries associated within the European Union.

10. Create Youthpass certificates that will formally certify participation in the project and strengthen the reflection process among young people.
